vMedia Users!

Check out the new EXPORTPDF feature.

vMedia now allows users to create a standalone PDF of a document simultaneously when it is filed to vMedia. Two documents are created with identical content:

- One is saved in vMedia as usual.
- The second one is saved as a PDF with the path and file name dynamically set at the time of the merge.

This feature can be helpful for submitting court documents electronically ("E-filing") or anytime that you need a PDF copy of a document. There is no longer a need to perform separate Export to PDF from FullView or a Bulk Export from the Viewing Module.

Various configuration options allow you to configure the resulting PDF file or files:

- File Name
- Optional File Path
- Optional Conflict Resolution
  - Choose to Save, Replace, Duplicate, or Skip saving if the document preexists.

This EXPORTPDF feature requires the document template and/or wrapper forms to be configured for PDF export. There is a new form marker: `ExportPDF = FILENAME`. This marker is used to specify the file name, optional file path, and optional conflict resolution parameters. The Save location and Conflict resolution can also be set at the time of the merge.

When you run the File2vMedia macro you'll be prompted with a dialog window. Here you can check the box to create PDF copies. Leaving the box unchecked will perform a "regular" File to vMedia and no PDF copies will be created.

Want to know more? Your vMedia Help Manual has comprehensive documentation on this new EXPORTPDF feature.

Document Merge Enhancements

- The "End of Merge" marker is an additional page added at the end of a WordPerfect merge to signify that the merge was successful, along with the date of the merge. This marker will also show that the print job was successful when your documents print.

- The End of Merge marker works with letters, pleadings and custom merge processing. When using vMedia's File to vMedia feature, the End of Merge marker is automatically excluded from the file.
- Another merge-related improvement involves Field Level Events ("FLE"). Document.Merge is a new action that FLE can trigger. Document.Merge requires no interaction with the document that is added. Optional FLE components include: Document.Comment, Document.PsComment, and Document.ExtraNums.
- The Subject line on email merge documents can be customized. The improvement provides for individualized Subject line information as opposed to one subject fits all. The Long Description field will become the subject line of your email because the Subject line of an email now accepts "\F" Field Codes. For example, the contents in the Long Description, \F1\;Test on \F8\ to \F625\, can be utilized as the subject of an email.
